Relation to PED: Art 1 Para 2(a)	CABF Recommendation
Question:	Can piping running within the premises of the user be considered conveyance pipelines (Art 1 Para 2(a))?
Answer:	No Pipelines are considered to be conveyance pipelines when running over public area. Pipelines going from one installation to another within the premises of the user are not considered to be conveyance pipelines and are not excluded from PED (Art 1 Para 2(a)). Even if one or more of these installations is excluded from PED, i.e. storage tanks. See also WPG, (to be amended when new numbering system of guidelines is established)
