services

kiwa

What we can do for you

We offer a comprehensive portfolio of global and local certification and verification services tailored to every link in the food chain— from farmers and producers to distributors, wholesalers, and retailers. Whether you're focused on food safety, sustainability, organic standards, or social responsibility, our services help you demonstrate compliance, enhance transparency, and build lasting consumer trust.

With extensive expertise in food safety, animal feed, animal welfare, organic production, and aquaculture, we support your business with trusted, practical solutions across our sector. Beyond certification, we have a range of complementary services to help you strengthen your food safety and quality systems across the supply chain. Our training programs support your teams in staying up to date with the latest standards. Through inspection and audit services, such as retail compliance audits, second-party inspections, and pest management solutions, we help you verify performance, ensure compliance, and maintain consumer trust. Finally, our digital solutions make certification and monitoring processes more efficient, offering data-driven insights for continuous improvement.

Working with you, we design, audit and monitor protocols that provide assurance throughout the entire international food supply chain. For a complete overview of the standards visit our website:

Kiwa offers comprehensive Global Food Safety Initiative (GFSI) certification services to help you meet international food safety standards and strengthen your position in the global market.

Our expertise spans leading schemes such as BRCGS, IFS, SQF, GRMS, FSSC 22000, and GlobalG.A.P., ensuring your compliance with the rigorous requirements of the GFSI benchmark.

By certifying your operations, we help you demonstrate your commitment to food safety, improve supply chain efficiency, and build trust with customers, partners, and regulators worldwide. With Kiwa, you can navigate the complexities of GFSI certifications with confidence.

Food Safety / GFSI

The Global Food Safety Initiative (GFSI) sets the benchmark for food safety certification schemes worldwide.

Recognized certification schemes

GFSI does not certify directly, but recognizes schemes like BRCGS, FSSC 22000, IFS, and SQF.

Trusted by retailers and brands

GFSI-recognized certifications are often a prerequisite for market

Risk management

GFSI-compliant audits focus on hazard analysis, preventive controls, and continuous improvement

Boosting food safety culture

Achieving GFSI certification is more than a checklist—it fosters a strong, proactive food safety culture

Partnering for compliance

Kiwa supports you throughout the GFSI journey—tailored to your sector and scale.
